against the Homeland.

WHAT YOU'LL DO

The Current and Emerging Threats Center provides Daily Threat briefings to DHS Leadership, collection and dissemination of open source information and coordination with other Intelligence Community and DHS offices.

- We collect, analyze and disseminate current, relevant, and actionable intelligence and information to other I&A offices, the Department of Homeland Security Intelligence Enterprise (DHS IE), DHS Component Watch counterparts, as well as Federal, State, Local, Tribal and Territorial Partners.
- We provide information and coordination to I&A's Field Operations Division on priority issues and events.

BENEFITS

We believe your dedication to protecting the nation should be rewarded. That's why we're proud to offer:

- Federal health and life insurance, and retirement benefits
- Recruiting incentives, including a student loan repayment program
- Flexible work schedules
- Professional development opportunities

What is DHS?

The Department of Homeland Security (DHS) has a vital mission: to secure the nation from the many threats we face. This requires the dedication of more than 240,000 employees in jobs that range from aviation and border security to emergency response, from cybersecurity analyst to chemical facility inspector. Our duties are wide-ranging, and our goal is clear – keeping America safe. Below is a partial listing of DHS components.

Office of Intelligence and Analysis

“I had a role in making sure everyone knew the information they needed to do their jobs. On the days I did my job right, the world never experienced the crisis we were preventing in the office.”

- Haley, former intern

How Does the Office of Intelligence and Analysis (I&A) fit in?

I&A's role is to collect, analyze and disseminate intelligence across DHS, the Intelligence Community, local and state government, law enforcement and the private sector to ensure homeland security.
